DETAILED ACTION

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

1. A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 05/10/2010 has been entered.

Response to Amendment

2. The amendment filed on 05/10/2010 has been entered. The amendments to the specification overcomes the new matter objection set forth in the office action mailed on 12/13/2005. The amendments to claims 1 and 14 overcome the 35 USC 112 second paragraph rejection of those claims as set forth in the office action mailed on 12/13/2005.

Response to Arguments

3. Applicant's arguments filed on 05/10/2010 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive to place the application in condition for allowance in view of August 24, 2009 interim patent subject matter eligibility examination instructions and in view of 01/26/2010 Kappos memo regarding Subject Matter Eligibility of Computer Readable Media. In view of current 35 USC 101 interpretations the previous indication of allowability is withdrawn and a 35 USC 101 rejection is set forth below. However, claims 1-28 do not read on art of record.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

4. 35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

5. Claims 1-28 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claimed invention is directed to non-statutory subject matter.

Method claims 1-13 and 27:

Supreme Court precedent¹ and recent Federal Circuit decisions² indicate that a statutory “process” under 35 U.S.C. 101 must (1) be tied to another statutory category (such as a particular apparatus), or (2) transform underlying subject matter (such as an article or material) to a different state or thing. While the instant claim(s) recite a series of steps or acts to be performed, the claim(s) neither transform underlying subject matter nor positively tie to another statutory category that accomplishes the claimed method steps, and therefore do not qualify as a statutory process.

In view of August 24, 2009 interim patent subject matter eligibility examination instructions sets forth a 35 USC 101 analysis which analysis renders these claims patent ineligible because the method steps are not tied to a particular machine or do not perform physical transformation. The instructions may be viewed at:

<http://www.uspto.gov/web/offices/pac/dapp/opla/2009-08->

25_interim_101_instructions.pdf.

¹ Diamond v. Diehr, 450 U.S. 175, 184 (1981); Parker v. Flook, 437 U.S. 584, 588 n.9 (1978); Gottschalk v. Benson, 409 U.S. 63, 70 (1972); Cochrane v. Deener, 94 U.S. 780, 787-88 (1876).

² In re Bilski, 88 USPQ2d 1385 (Fed. Cir. 2008).

Art Unit: 2628

These method claims do not tie the method to 1) a particular apparatus because the steps are abstract ideas and not tied to anything even the displaying steps are abstract steps not tied to anything or 2) transform underlying subject matter because no physical transformation occurs.

Product claims 14-26 and 28:

In view of August 24, 2009 interim patent subject matter eligibility examination instructions sets forth a 35 USC 101 analysis of these storage medium readable claims which analysis renders these claims patent ineligible because particular machine structure is not claimed. These storage medium readable claims in view of the 01/26/2010 Kappos memo regarding Subject Matter Eligibility of Computer Readable Media are covering signals and other transitory media.
